

Testimonials

I just wanted to let you know we made it to the Bippity Boppity Boutique on Thursday and it was fantastic. Our daughter couldn't even believe it when we told her she was finally going to do it!! The experience was amazing, the staff was amazing, and it put a thousand smiles on all of our faces. We can't thank you enough!! I have a million pictures from the day, but I'll send you my top few!! Thanks so much again!

- Mother of daughter who lost her brother

The page is decorated with several yellow stars of various sizes, some with soft white halos, scattered around the central text. The stars are positioned in the corners and along the sides of the page.

So glad I found you guys. We can't thank you enough for this amazing gift and the opportunity for the boys to have a day with their mom to laugh and smile. Our daughter who passed 6th birthday is only a few weeks away, and the one year anniversary of her death shortly after and our family has been having a really hard time in anticipation. This was a great mental break for her and the boys. Their uncle even went with them which was a special treat! You really helped my boys feel special. Thank you so incredibly much.

- Aunt to siblings who lost their older sister

I must start by thanking you, and your incredible organization that made today very special for our sweet daughter. She was incredibly into the performance! Come intermission we were met at the memorabilia table by one of the dancers who gave our daughter a flower and a keepsake. She took us backstage, we met dancers, and got to see their dressing rooms and even went on stage. EVERY single person seemed to know we were coming, young and old-and while she may not have noticed that - my husband and I most certainly did. With tears in our eyes we went along watching her enjoy her very special moment-one she is so deserving of. These special moments that ignite a spark you can almost touch and see are the ones I absolutely love to see in her, for her. She knew today was just for her, but it also was rewarding for us-more than I can explain.

- Mother of sister who lost her younger brother who was granted a trip to the Nutcracker

Oh my heart!! I wish I could hug you. Yesterday was absolutely amazing. I don't know that I have ever seen my daughter so happy and giddy. When the limo pulled into the driveway she ran to the door. Sprite in champagne glasses, music, and lots of laughter. I think my husband had just as much fun as my daughter. As a mother and wife it's all I could ask for. Once we got back to the car when the day had ended she said "this is what famous people must feel like." You made my little girl happy. I am overwhelmed by your kindness. From the bottom of my heart thank you!

- Mother of sister who lost her younger brother

The page is decorated with several yellow stars of various sizes, some of which are placed on white square backgrounds. The stars are scattered around the central text, with a large star in the top left, a medium star in the top right, and several smaller stars in the bottom left and bottom right areas.

My son LOVES his Seahawks pajamas... you are MAKING a difference!!!!

- Mother of brother who lost his baby sister

The page is decorated with several yellow stars of varying sizes, each placed on a white square background. The stars are scattered around the central text, with some in the corners and others closer to the center. The text is in a dark blue, bold font.

Thank you for making Christmas a little more special for our kids. Thank you for everything you all have done for our family.

- Siblings who lost their sister

The page is decorated with several yellow five-pointed stars of varying sizes, scattered around the central text. Some stars are larger and more prominent, while others are smaller and more subtle. The stars are set against a white background with a subtle grid pattern.

Christmas day we told our girls about your organization. There was not a dry eye in the house. Our younger daughter said she couldn't believe that someone would be so nice and think of her. Our oldest, was sobbing when we told her. Our middle daughter, who holds in her emotions was crying as well. Our baby just ran around playing. Our son just went over summer to Disneyland and told our younger daughter that he wanted to go again and take her. So she said that it was him who put it in your hearts to send her to Disneyland. Many blessings and thanks to you and your organization.

- Mother of siblings who lost their brother

The slide features several yellow stars of various sizes scattered around the text. Some stars are placed on white square backgrounds, while others are not. The stars are positioned in the corners and along the sides of the slide, framing the central text.

We enjoyed the movie so much!! Thank you so much!!! We will always remember this special trip!

- Mother of siblings who lost their brother

The background of the slide is white and decorated with several yellow five-pointed stars. Each star is placed on a white square that is slightly tilted. The stars vary in size and are scattered across the page, with a larger star in the top left, a medium star in the top right, and several smaller stars in the bottom left and bottom right areas.

Thank you and your company. You gave me hope.

- Mother of son who lost his brother

The page is decorated with several yellow stars of various sizes, some with white drop shadows, scattered around the central text. The stars are positioned in the corners and along the sides of the page.

I wanted to let you know that our daughter had a good time at Lollapalooza. It was more emotional for her than she had anticipated. Her brother had promised he'd take her, but he made himself present for her in other ways.

- Family of sisters who lost their brother

The page is decorated with several yellow stars of various sizes, some with soft white halos, scattered around the text. The stars are positioned in the corners and along the sides of the page.

What sweet words. Thank you for what you do and who you are. Spreading that much joy means you have to run towards the pain of others and hear their stories and that is incredibly inspiring.

Our son will always be celebrated for the amazing, loving, and incredible soul he is. He will always be close it's just finding new ways to keep him near. Again, thank you!

- Mother of brother and sister who were given a trip to six flags after the passing of their sibling

The entire weekend was focused on ALL of our babies. As we checked in, I had to walk away as I was having an overwhelming sense of sadness that we were here without our baby. I stepped outside and tried to compose myself and find that “strength” to keep going. As I wiped my tears, I look up and see my children running toward me with giant smiles and wearing wolf ears. Their excitement instantly shifted my mindset. This is why we are here, not without her, because of her. This is what this weekend was about. Living our best lives, being grateful for our support system, and of course saying those sweet names who aren’t physically here with us. Thank you Charlie’s Guys for a well needed family weekend.

- Family of siblings who lost their sister

We had THE BEST time of Mackinac Island. Thank you so much for graciously donating our ferry ride, night at the Grand Hotel and so much more. We made memories that our kids will hold onto forever. Charlie's Guys is a stellar example of how we can give back when facing tragedy. Thank you for loving us so well in this journey.

- Family of siblings who lost their adopted brother

The page is decorated with several yellow five-pointed stars of varying sizes, scattered around the central text. Some stars are larger and more prominent, while others are smaller and more subtle. The stars are set against a white background.

Absolutely beautiful organization. Thank you for making these very special children smile.

- Mother of son who lost his older brother

The page is decorated with several yellow five-pointed stars of varying sizes, scattered around the central text. Some stars are larger and more prominent, while others are smaller and more subtle. They are set against a white background with a faint, light blue grid pattern.

I wanted to thank you for your organization. We have found that many childhood cancer organizations only offer assistance while your child is alive and retract assistance once our child dies. Our son had to put up with his parents being gone all the time, having his world turned upside down with a sick sibling, and even now has to grieve and deal with grieving parents. My husband and I are really grateful to have found your organization because we want to be able to take some time to celebrate him because he also deserves it.

- Mother of brother who lost his baby sister

They sent us to Universal Studios so we could make some happy memories with my surviving child! We were able to have an amazing day! An amazing organization that is tending to such an immensely overlooked group in grief...the siblings. Thank you Charlie and family. You are heaven and earth angels. May you boys meet in the heavens!

- Mother of sister who lost her brother

Our daughter received her gift certificate and she cried. She needs this badly and she is looking forward to it very much. Our son received his 3 dinosaur items and he has been playing with them non-stop. He was so very excited and happy. We also received the clothes and the car seat!!!! Holy moly my husband and I both cried. We are so thankful for you and I wish we were closer, but for now, a hug over the internets will have to do!

- Mother of siblings who lost 3 siblings

I want to first THANK YOU! The generosity you've shown us is a gift from above! The greatest gift you have given me is your unspoken understanding of just exactly how I'm broken. Your story and your strength have touched me and given me hope that I can change the world with the love I have for my boys! Thank you so much for all that you do!

- Mother of son who lost 2 older siblings

It is so awesome that someone has such a kind heart to do this for my grandson. Thank you so very much from the bottom of my heart.

So amazing. Thank you so very much for doing this for our grandson. Words cannot express my gratitude.

I was crying with so much gratitude for your foundation!

She was so excited I couldn't help but cry because she has always wanted one. You have no idea what this means for our family.

The image features a white background with several yellow, five-pointed stars of varying sizes. Each star is placed on a small, light-colored square sticker that has a slightly irregular, torn-edge appearance. The stars are scattered across the page, with some in the top-left and bottom-left corners, and others in the top-right and bottom-right corners. The central text is positioned between the left and right clusters of stars.

It was good to see their smiles.

Charlie's Guys is truly a remarkable organization to think of the siblings during this difficult time.
They are so kind and went above and beyond!

The page is decorated with several yellow stars of various sizes, some of which are placed on white square backgrounds. The stars are scattered around the central text, with a large star in the top left, a medium star in the top right, and several smaller stars in the bottom corners.

Thank you so much! He received his gift today and he loves it. He can't wait to fly. We will cherish it forever!

- Mother of a son who lost his two younger brothers